CCSO arrests barricaded subject with 40 warrants

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Tuesday, Sept. 13, 2022

NORTH CHARLESTON, S.C. – Charleston County Sheriff's Office deputies on Tuesday arrested a man with 40 active warrants after he barricaded himself in a North Charleston home for hours.

Members of CCSO's Warrants Unit and officers from partner agencies on Tuesday morning responded to an apartment complex at 2245 Greenridge Road in North Charleston. They arrived before 7 a.m. and made contact with a female resident. Their attempts to contact anyone else inside were unsuccessful, but the wanted man was believed to be barricaded in the home. The deputies issued multiple commands for the man to come out.

After obtaining a search warrant, SWAT team members entered the home about 1 p.m. and encountered the man hiding in a bedroom. The man resisted arrest, and deputies deployed K-9 Rex. The dog apprehended the man, and the deputies detained him. It was K-9 Rex's third successful apprehension of a barricaded subject this year.

Cane Dajwond James, 24, was taken to a hospital for treatment of bite wounds to an arm. After his release from the hospital, he will be booked at the Al Cannon Detention Center on the existing warrants and an additional charge of resisting arrest.

No other injuries were reported in the incident.

James' 10 warrants through CCSO include multiple counts of unlawfully carrying a pistol, failure to stop for blue lights, possession with attempt to distribute narcotics, habitual traffic offender and driving under suspension. James also had 30 active warrants from three other agencies in South Carolina. A complete list of the local charges will be available on the Detention Center website once James is booked. Visit <https://inmatesearch.charlestoncounty.org/>. Several previous booking photos of James are available under "Show Past Bookings."
